

Psychologist

The Dana-Farber Cancer Institute

The Dana-Farber Cancer Institute's Division of Adult Psychosocial Oncology is continuing to expand and seeks academic psychologists for faculty positions in the Department of Psychosocial Oncology and Palliative Care. The department has a tradition of pioneering psychosocial care, educational programs, and research. The Dana-Farber Cancer Institute is a major teaching site for the Brigham and Women's Hospital/Harvard Residency Training Program. Successful candidates will be skilled at complex diagnostic assessment, collaboration with other medical and behavioral health providers, and psychopharmacologic management and/or focused psychotherapy. Inpatient and/or outpatient consult-liaison experience is preferred. Available positions include ambulatory care and inpatient consults. Research, scholarship, and the abilities to inspire trainees and participate in care innovation are highly desirable. Faculty appointments will be at the Instructor or Assistant Professor level at Harvard Medical School with clinical privileges at both the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute and Brigham and Women's Hospital. Salary, benefits and compensation will be consistent with experience and hospital policies.

Please address inquiries to: William Pirl MD, MPH, Vice Chair for Psychosocial Oncology, Department of Psychosocial Oncology and Palliative Care, The Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, 450 Brookline Avenue, JF 832 Boston, MA 02215. wpirl@partners.org
<http://dfcionline.org/departments/psycho-onc-palliative-care/adult-psychosocial/>

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions, or any other characteristic protected by law.