

Psychiatrist

The Dana-Farber Cancer Institute

The Dana-Farber Cancer Institute's Division of Adult Psychosocial Oncology is expanding and seeks academic psychiatrists for faculty positions in the Department of Psychosocial Oncology and Palliative Care. The department has a tradition of first-rate clinical care, educational programs, and research. The Dana-Farber Cancer Institute is a major teaching site for the Brigham/Harvard Residency Training Program. Successful candidates will be skilled at complex diagnostic assessment, psychopharmacologic management, focused psychotherapy and collaboration with other medical and behavioral health providers. Inpatient and/or outpatient consult-liaison experience is preferred. Research, scholarship, and the abilities to inspire trainees and participate in care innovation are highly desirable. Faculty appointments will be at the Instructor or Assistant Professor level at Harvard Medical School with clinical privileges at both the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute and Brigham and Women's Hospital. Salary, benefits and compensation will be consistent with experience and hospital policies.
