

GEORGIA CANCER CENTER

AUGUSTA UNIVERSITY

PSYCHO-ONCOLOGY FACULTY POSITION

The Georgia Cancer Center and the Medical College of Georgia at Augusta University are seeking full-time faculty member at the Assistant Professor rank with main interest in health psychology and psycho-oncology. The top candidate will have the opportunity to join a growing and dynamic team comprised of psychologists, social work, dieticians, and pastoral care. The individual will also work in close collaboration with the multidisciplinary treatment teams (medical, radiation, & surgical oncology) to support patients, their caregivers, and providers across the cancer journey, from diagnosis through survivorship or end of life.

The top candidate will facilitate the development of programs and pathways to deliver consultations, assessments, and interventions. The provider will conduct inpatient and outpatient pre-surgical/pre-transplant evaluations, provide inpatient consultative services for patients, and manage a caseload of psychotherapy patients with hematologic/oncologic malignancies and co-occurring psychiatric and adjustment-related concerns. Opportunities to specialize in areas of clinical interest is available. Lastly, the position will also provide teaching to medical students, psychology interns/fellows, and hem/onc fellows as needed.

Position Requirements

- Doctoral degree (PhD or PsyD) in clinical or counseling psychology from a program accredited by the American Psychological Association (APA).
- Completion of an APA-accredited internship in a hospital/medical setting.
- Licensed or license-eligible to practice psychology independently in the state of Georgia.
- Focused training in Clinical Health Psychology.

The final candidate will be required to provide proof of completed academic degree in the form of original transcript.

Preferred

- Psycho-oncology experience is preferred.

Competitive start-up packages are available based on qualifications, experience, skills and expressed interest of the candidate.
