

MOFFITT CANCER CENTER

FACULTY MEMBER, PSYCHOLOGIST

The Moffitt Cancer Center is seeking a psychologist at the Assistant or Associate Member level to fill a faculty position in its growing Behavioral Medicine Service, which is part of the Supportive Care Medicine Department. Responsibilities include providing psychological services in outpatient and inpatient settings, conducting psychological evaluations and assessments, as well as participating in the clinical, educational, and research activities of the department. The ideal candidate will have clinical and research experience working with adults in a medical and/or oncology setting.

The Moffitt Cancer Center is internationally recognized for our focus on personalized cancer care and translational research. With a tradition of excellence that began with the first patient admission in 1986, dedicated Moffitt clinicians, scientists, and staff members have remained committed to excellence in an atmosphere characterized by kindness, caring, and hope.

Requirements

Applicants must have a Florida psychology license as a PhD or PsyD or be license eligible and have completed a pre-doctoral internship. Applicants with a fellowship in behavioral medicine, health psychology, or psycho-oncology preferred.

Moffitt Cancer Center & Research Institute, Florida's only NCI-designated Comprehensive Cancer Center, is a rapidly growing Center affiliated with the University of South Florida.
